Youth Tells Of Slavery, Starvation

Informs Court Of Escape From Home Of Relations

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—(CP)—Police said today that an emaciated boy, found last night scratching at the door of a west-end home, begging for food, told them he had been kept in a clothes closet and fed on bread and water for a year in a suburban Mount Dennis home.

The boy identified himself as Gordon Kelly, 14, and said he had been kept prisoner by an elderly aunt and uncle in Mount Dennis. He said as far as he could recall his parents had died about four years ago. He could not recall his relatives' address.

LOCKED IN CLOSET

"I was locked in a clothes closet most of the day," he told Judge J. J. Webster of York county family court. "I was given food only twice a day—bread and water. At night I slept on a couch but I couldn't go out because the doors were pulled down tight."

He said he was forced to do heavy household work each day and "almost every day" was beaten by his aunt and uncle. His back was bruised and scratched, court officials said.

The boy said that for some reason his aunt and uncle had allowed him out on the back porch yesterday and he had run away. He went to Etobicoke Creek with a piece of wood.

Clear, Warm Here Friday

Edmonton's weather will not be so bright today, but the weatherman has promised clear skies early this afternoon.

A trace of rain fell early today, but the shower didn't cover a very wide area and no further rain is expected.

Temperatures will be considerably lower than on Wednesday when the mercury rose to about 15 degrees above normal for this time of year. Friday weather will be clear.

Official forecast issued at 10 a.m. today by Dominion public weather office at Edmonton and valid until midnight Friday follows: Edmonton Region: Cloudy, clearing early this afternoon; clear Friday; winds northwest 15, becoming light this evening and south 15 Friday afternoon; little change in temperature; low tonight at Edmonton 24, high tomorrow 32.

HOW TO TORTURE YOUR HUSBAND By Webster Elmore Philpott

QUICK! GET UP AND CHANGE YOUR CLOTHES! THE BLACKS ARE COMING OVER RIGHT AWAY AND THEY'RE BRINGING THEIR HOUSE GUESTS. YOU KNOW YOU ALL MR. AND MRS. HORSEFEATHERS—YOU MET THEM TWO YEARS AGO AT THE FROGISHES DINNER. THEN THERE IS MISS HOFFENHOPPER—YOU PLAYED BRIDGE WITH HER ONCE. MRS. DRIPNODDIN YOU MET AT THE COUNTRY CLUB A FEW MONTHS AGO. DON'T ASK ABOUT HER HUSBAND—THEY WERE DIVORCED LAST WEEK. TRY NOT TO CALL THE HORSEFEATHERS' HORSE COLLAR. NOW, HURRY, AND CLEAN UP THIS MESS BEFORE YOU GO UP TO DRESS

THE BRIEFING

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Good Text For Daubers
Editor, Bulletin—My husband, who is an artist of the old school, says these modernistic, futuristic daubers, being unable to paint a good picture, claim that people see differently.
A little experiment would dispel their theory: a walk in the grizzly bear country where no doubt the futurist would mistake a creek for trees and ridges for high mountains until Mr. Grizzly arrived on the scene. The bear might look a little larger to him than to an old hunter but he would make a dash for the nearest climbable tree. Moreover he would know that tree and no amount of theory would make that bear look like a rabbit so that he could climb.

Peas And Grain
Editor, Bulletin—An item in the news says "Wheat, peas and grain" 63,000,000 tons of grain a year. Dr. G. Scott Robertson has his hand on the pulse of the grain situation. The grain situation is a desperate one. The grain situation is a desperate one. The grain situation is a desperate one.

More Pay For Aldermen?
Editor, Bulletin—We read your editorial which favored the raising of aldermen's salaries. We are not sure that the aldermen are doing enough for the city. We are not sure that the aldermen are doing enough for the city.

Smiles
The constable called at a villa and rang the bell. Inside the house the piano-playing ceased and a rather scared-looking young man rushed to the door. He asked: "Yes? What do you want?" "Well, said the constable, "I've just a telephone call to say that there's some fellow called 'Smiles' being murdered in 'this house.'"
"I'm sorry, old man, but I make it a rule never to lend my money to a fellow who is being murdered."

Today's Text
I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will give me at that day.—1 Timothy 4:7-8

PHILPOTT
Most Canadians approved the decision of the Dominion government to deport the convicted French collaborator, Count de Helldorf. This French collaborator was a traitor to his country, but indirectly the contributors to the casualty lists of our own Canadian army overseas.

Like any other imprisoned person in Canada, he has the right to appeal to the courts and is exercising that right in the last analysis the highest court in Canada is that of public opinion. Parliament, and the people themselves, will certainly be called upon to consider such cases if government officials and routine courts do not dispose of them satisfactorily.

PHILPOTT
Despite their illegal entry, the Mackenzie King government has actually vetoed the decision of the Department of Immigration to deport these four men. The Canadian Press dated Oct. 13 says "It was indicated that pressure from the French government was brought to bear on those considering the case."

PHILPOTT
The people of Canada have no far shown what seems to be a sensible charity in regard to the imposition of no-called deportation orders on these four men. Many of these were "persuaded" one way or another to work in Hitler's industries in the last few years. No doubt many, maybe even most, of them did so unwillingly because they had to work for the food that they and their families were starving.

The provincial government has put teeth in the sanitary regulations of cities and municipalities by giving local health boards power to close restaurants which do not observe the law. It is up to the municipal health boards, including that of Edmonton, to make these teeth bite.

The new provincial regulations require, among other things, that adequate facilities shall exist in restaurants for the washing and sterilizing of dishes and utensils and for the proper location of toilets.

They also give local health inspectors power to inspect restaurant premises any hour of the day or night.

With this new authority, the Edmonton health board should be allotted sufficient inspectors to do a thorough job of enforcing the law. With a man of the caliber of Dr. G. M. Little at the head of the Edmonton board, there is no reason why the enforcement should not be intelligent and complete.

But the best and easiest way to promote sanitary conditions in eating houses is not only to maintain sufficient inspectors but to secure the cooperation of the public.

Most citizens who eat in these places are not able to offer full cooperation of this kind because they are not acquainted with the requirements of the law.

One of the first things that is needed, then, is to require the posting in a prominent place in every eating house a digest of the provincial and municipal laws governing the operation of restaurants.

With such a list plainly in sight, patrons would be in a position to report any breaches of the regulations.

The proper and sanitary operation of eating houses is an extremely vital matter to the organization as the maximum number of people may derive maximum satisfaction from sports events, from horse racing and from midway shows and other sources of income.

Health and living standards demand the closest possible supervision of their cleanliness and of the health and cleanliness of their employees.

Important Task for Mr. Paul

As new manager of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, James Paul will have one of the most important and demanding jobs in this community.

He assumes office at a time when the Association's equipment and facilities, such as the Arena, have fallen below the urgent requirements of a phenomenally growing city.

As the Edmonton Bulletin has frequently pointed out, the first and most pressing need of the Exhibition Association is constantly increasing revenues to devote to that promotion of agriculture and industry which is the primary purpose of the Association.

Mr. Paul, therefore, will be faced with the task of directing the affairs of the organization so that the maximum number of people may derive maximum satisfaction from sports events, from horse racing and from midway shows and other sources of income.

Health and living standards demand the closest possible supervision of their cleanliness and of the health and cleanliness of their employees.

The Interval Is Too Long

Mike Zacharuk was sentenced to death on October 19 for the murder of William Pacholik. But the sentence will not be carried out until January 12.

Such an interval between sentence and execution is far too long. It drags out the agony of anticipation to the point of barbarity.

According to English law, presumably followed traditionally in Canada, at least, three clear Sundays must elapse between capital judgment and the gallows.

In English practice the average interval between sentence and execution is about six weeks. That used to be the average in good times, many years ago.

But that waiting period has stretched out and out and out over the years until Zacharuk must live in fearful apprehension a full 86 dreadful days, almost three months or a quarter of a year, for the hangman.

It is admitted that a good deal of activity must go on behind the scenes after a murderer is sentenced to death. Time must be allowed for a full review of the evidence by the department of justice.

Mr. Paul

of the Association.

Mr. Paul, therefore, will be faced with the task of directing the affairs of the organization so that the maximum number of people may derive maximum satisfaction from sports events, from horse racing and from midway shows and other sources of income.

Health and living standards demand the closest possible supervision of their cleanliness and of the health and cleanliness of their employees.

This group, convened by Parson's Magazine, consisted of a collection of professional Santa Clauses and they went into the business of Santa Clausing with ghoulish thoroughness.

In the first place, they decided that all the phoney St. Nickas should abandon this role of the customary "Ho Ho Ho!" where they hang the fat man in the red coat with usually gaudy children in stores at Christmas time.

The more robust guffaw, they decided, is likely to frighten timid children. So this year Santa Claus will give out a polite and restrained "feel free!" a friendly smile, and a few words of encouragement, possibly frightening anybody. Good help us.

Next year, these Yuletide vandals are going to go into the matter of beard. By 1949, they hope, Santa Claus will appear clean shaven or in a neat fuzzy mustache.

Smiles

The constable called at a villa and rang the bell. Inside the house the piano-playing ceased and a rather scared-looking young man rushed to the door. He asked: "Yes? What do you want?" "Well, said the constable, "I've just a telephone call to say that there's some fellow called 'Smiles' being murdered in 'this house.'"
"I'm sorry, old man, but I make it a rule never to lend my money to a fellow who is being murdered."

The real key to the Russian riddle lies, I believe, in the fact that the Soviet government has long leads a double life.

Simultaneously, it is pursuing one line, but two foreign policies. One is a "plain" policy concerned with security, trade, and all the interests that which to form the foreign policy of any land. The other is the foreign policy of the Communist party.

These two are not always either parallel or compatible. The objectives are by no means the same. Sometimes, they seem to oppose each other.

At such times, gorgeous contradictions are succeeded by stunning paradoxes.

Here is an example: From the appearance of Hitler to the outbreak of war the Soviet government was friendly to Germany. The two governments fraternized against each other, for the Soviet government was friendly to Germany.

Yet, in 1939, Russia suddenly sided with Germany. Russia, in 1939, suddenly sided with Germany.

Travel Men Urge Aid for Tourism

Transport Tax Abolition Question Is Shelved

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, Oct. 21. — (CP) — The three-day annual dominion-provincial tourist conference closed yesterday after a brief flare-up on the question whether delegates should urge abolition of the 15-per-cent federal tax on transportation tickets.

The argument ended with the delegates deciding it "would be improper for them, as government officials, to try to dictate tax policies to any government. In a cautiously-worded resolution they urged the federal government to consider every means of making tourist travel to and within Canada as easy as possible.

BEST ON RECORD
At the convention finished, Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian government's travel bureau, said the meetings had been the most successful since the conference were started three years ago. Among other things, the delegates had adopted resolutions urging that:

1. All governments in Canada consider the sponsoring of school essays on tourism as a means of interesting children in the tourist trade.
2. New stress be placed on the value of fish and game conservation.
3. Grading of tourist accommodation across the country be extended.
4. The Dominion and provinces make an early start on the construction of a trans-Canada highway.

HELP FOR PARKS

5. Federal government increase grants voted for the improvement of services in national parks.
6. The CBC carry programs aimed at stimulating tourism, and at educating the Canadian public on the value of the tourist industry.

Reports during the meetings indicated that 1948 will be a record tourist year. Preliminary figures indicated that by the year end American tourists have spent more than the $23,000,000 which they left behind in Canada in 1947. It was estimated that on the year's business, Canada will have a favorable balance of about $100,000,000 compared with between $80,000,000 and $90,000,000 last year.

LOVETT FINDS HULA-GIRL TIE 'Distracting'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. — (AP) — Robert Lovett, under-secretary of state, a man who leans to the conservative in dress, showed up at a press conference yesterday wearing a hula-girl tie.

The newswoman was presented to him recently by Gen. Walter B. Smith, United States ambassador to Russia, who had read in the papers that Lovett always wore a single-color pale cravat.

Smith asked Lovett if he would wear a brighter tie. Lovett bought him one. In an unguarded moment, Lovett said yes.

Lovett wore the result yesterday but told friends never again he said the row of dancing girls under his chin distracted him from his work.

Canada Will Have Notre Dame College

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Oct. 21. — (CP) — The Roman Catholic Holy Cross Order, is establishing a college at Welland, Ont. Very Rev. William F. McGinnis, Vice-Provincial of the Order, said here yesterday.

He said the new college, to be conducted by the same order which established Notre Dame University at South Bend Ind., will be ready early next year and will be known as Notre Dame College of Canada.

Romania Protests Poem About Woman Minister

LONDON, Oct. 21. — (Reuters) — Mihail Mavret, Romanian minister in London, called at the Foreign Office yesterday to protest against references to Madame Ana Pauker, Romanian Foreign Minister, made by columnist Nathaniel Gubbins in London Sunday Express.

A poem which read in part: At parties Ana sits a lot (What a charming manner) With other comrades up and plot. Ana, chewing something hot, Has a plotting comrade up and plot. Teaching him to pan her. Ana, unkind comrades say, Is richer than a boyar. Apart from ministerial pay, Ana has the tea or say.

Of life and death from day to day Of comrades who annoy her. Comrades, aping bourgeoisie Must be liquidated, see! Ana takes their dough-ey-eyes, On boy, on boy, on boyar. (A boyar is a rich peasant). In a letter to the editor in the Oct. 17 Sunday Express, Paul Cotova, of the Romanian legation expressed indignation at Gubbins' "despicable insinuation."

Dominion Seeks Stronger Provincial Rights: Abbott

QUEBEC, Oct. 21. — (CP) — Finance Minister Abbott said today that the federal government, in concluding taxation agreements with the provinces, is seeking to strengthen rather than lessen provincial autonomy.

"No one more than myself desires the preservation of the fundamental principles on which our Dominion is based," said Mr. Abbott in a speech at a meeting of Quebec insurance agents. He spoke in French.

SOLIDARITY NEEDED

He and his colleagues were aware that the "very existence of a sane democracy in this country depends on the existence of strong and virile local and provincial governments."

"But real autonomy and true freedom of action only come with financial solidarity and financial stability. Our aim has been to increase the provinces' financial strength—only foundation for independent and autonomous government."

"All our efforts in the taxation field tended to remove obstacles to economic development, while assuring provincial governments stable revenue regardless of the economic situation."

Mr. Abbott recalled that all provinces except Ontario and Quebec have signed taxation agreements with the Dominion since 1948.

ALLOWS PLANNING

The seven provinces which signed could plan for the duration of the five-year agreement with the knowledge that revenues from major tax sources would not fall below the minimum figures set by the Dominion.

"All that was accomplished without any modification in the fundamental constitutional position, of any of the contracting parties," he said. "No province gave up the slightest morsel of its constitutional rights."

THOROUGHBREDS "TURNED OUT" to exercise in the infield at the Exhibition track led the life of Riley. The racing season is a thing of the past on the prairies.

TRAINER JOE HOLDEN "cuts out" Duffy Craig and the popular route runner proves himself an equally heads-up "mugger" before the camera. Holden and "Duffy" are great pals.

The Athletic Council, a body representing just about every phase of amateur sport in the city, went on record Wednesday night as being opposed to any group, particularly "professionals", getting control of Clarke Stadium.

STRICTLY FOR AMATEURS

The council members felt they should look up some more because of the limited facilities. They intend to fight to keep what space there is primarily for amateurs.

"Let them build their own field, out along Kingsway," barked President Mary Van Vleet. "Clarke Stadium already is overcrowded. If the group wants to bring in pro football, then let them build a $100,000 or a $500,000 stadium. The rest is our own."

A plea for a better deal for soccer at Clarke Stadium was entered by President Van Vleet. Van Vleet, clerk and secretary, respectively of the EDSA.

After a lengthy discussion the Council agreed to send baseball, soccer and track-and-field delegates to the "new city council."

SMACK AT SPRINTERS

Green and White took a crack at sprinters practicing on the track after a soccer game was in full swing. They also were critical of dressing room facilities and the confusion created, because there is only one gate to the stadium.

The group passed a motion to write the mayor, the school board and the Recreation Commission, requesting the use of public school buildings as free-of-charge training grounds for boxing and wrestling clubs.

They also agreed to co-operate 100 per cent with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the latter's plan for a "Sports Week" this winter. The new executive to be elected Nov. 2 will form a committee to work with the Chamber.

Earl Samis, president of the Edmonton District Hockey Association, mentioned that any proposal to bring a rink to be used principally for amateur hockey, must hold fire until such time as it is decided whether or not a downtown auditorium is to be constructed in the city.

The group will meet the first Tuesday of each month. The election of officers, put off last night because of the skippy turnout, will be held Nov. 2.

In that attendance were: Prof. Van Vleet, Samis, Green, Wilson, Jim Payer, Don Smith, John Farris, Arnold Henderson, Roy Hain, Burton, Lloyd Henderson, Sam Campbell, Alex Wynnichuk, Jim MacLellan and Jack McIntyre.

Lethbridge Drops Quakers Keeper in WCHL Basement

Menziez Paces Leafs to 5-3 Win; Bentley Tops for Losers

SASKATOON, Oct. 21. — (CP) — Lethbridge Maple Leafs scored their second victory in Western Canada Hockey League starts Wednesday night when they topped the hapless Saskatoon Quakers 5-3 for the Saskatchewan team's fifth defeat in as many games.

Only bright spot of the game for Quakers, making their first home appearance, was a three-goal performance by Reg Bentley. For Leafs, Don Menziez had two while Tommy Wood, Bill Gibson and Gib Nordin had singles.

The scoring was confined to the first two periods with Menziez scoring twice in the opening session and the teams dividing a half-dozen markers in the middle period.

But How Long Will It Last?

Lethbridge used the victory to go into a first place tie with Edmonton Flyers and Regina Caps. However, the Leafs have played four games against two for the other two clubs.

Close checking featured the first five minutes of the opening period and then Lethbridge went into the lead. Menziez scoring on a rising shot after taking a pass inside the Saskatoon baseline. Menziez' drive had Ken McAuley beaten all the way.

Lethbridge's worst night was 2-0 in 1939 when Menziez bagged his second goal. Jack Taggart and Ken Simpson were credited with assists.

Saskatoon cut the Lethbridge lead 2-1 after 53 seconds of the second period. Reg Bentley finished the scoring.

Ken McAuley In Rare Form

At the 1937 mark Lethbridge made the score 5-3, Wood hitting in a double play from Gibson, Nordin and Bentley. Bentley, Nordin, Simpson, and Wood were credited with assists.

The night's bright spot during the first 10 minutes of play in the third period came when Leafs' Stan MacNeil went alone and hit the Saskatoon goal-post. Quakers were credited with assists.

The equally poor play of Lethbridge's defense by both clubs was summarized by the referee.

Gib Nordin for Lethbridge was thrown on a nice play by Gibson, only to have McAuley finish the scoring.

McAuley then beat both Kirkpatrick and Simpson on close-in play.

The last two minutes of the game was played mostly in centre ice, fashions along the lines of river hockey.

Tigers Cop Boxla Title With Great Comeback

TORONTO, Oct. 21. — (CP) — A story book final stretch drive Wednesday night gave Hamilton Tigers their second Canadian senior lacrosse title when they defeated New Westminster Adanacs 12-8.

Tigers spotted Adanacs, defending champions, the first two games only, routed back to take the next three.

GREAT COMEBACK

Adanacs ran Tigers into the ground in the first two games, 11-0 and 13-1, with flashy fast quarter drives, and it appeared to be over until Hamilton started to rally.

The Tigers checked the speedsters to a standstill to take the third game 12-7, made it 9-7 in the fourth and then came back with a pine-tingling victory Wednesday night.

They spotted Adanacs a four-goal, first quarter lead and then, to the accompaniment of roars from the largest crowd of the series—7700—whipped, in four goals to Adanacs one in the second quarter and outscored the piggy champions by a four-to-one margin in the third.

HEAD-UP GAME

The crowd expected a New Westminster outburst in the final 15 minutes, but the eastern champions, playing a steady, head-up game, bottled Adanacs up in their own area and whipped it four goals in less than four minutes to put the game on ice.

At the final whistle, the partisan crowd roared to its feet and cheered the new champions while Lyle Barr of Vancouver, captain of the Adanacs, was congratulated by the Hamilton players.

Lacrosse Association presented the Mann Cup to Playing Coach Chas. Chivers, Tigers, who won the National Hockey League and the spot for all sorts of events, will be celebrated by the city. Doug Fife, whose brilliant play was a major factor in their triumph.

The Edmonton Curling club will hold its semi-annual meeting in the clubhouse Friday at 8:15 p.m. Following the disposal of business a smoker will be held.

DOUG ANDERSON ... Happy birthday. PUG YOUNG ... in joking mood.

Calgary Stamps Set For Air Trip North

Calgary Stampers will make a little Western Canada Hockey league "history" when they come north Saturday to battle Flyers. The Cowboys plan to hit the airlines for the first time. It will mark the first time a WCHL aggregation has fulfilled a playing date in this fashion.

Late Wednesday Dave Dushak, manager of the Stampers, in speaking to The Bulletin by telephone, confirmed earlier reports that the Calgary team planned to travel by air at as close as possible to this season.

"Yes, we've chartered a plane to take us to Edmonton for the Saturday game," he admitted. "We leave here at 6:10, should arrive in Edmonton not long after 7:00 o'clock."

THIS IS THE LIFE

The Stampers will return home immediately after the game is over. Their aircraft, a 3-passenger DC3, is in the hands of a regular TCA pilot.

However before the Stampers dash with Flyers in the arena here there's the more pressing matter of entertaining the Edmontonians in their own Calgary ballclub Friday night.

By contrast with the new-found flying tendencies of Dushak and his charges, Flyers will travel as of old, by train, leaving at noon the day of the game. However there's no doubt the Stampers "experiment" will be watched with interest as a possible future mode of getting about for the Allan Cup champions.

Flyers working out again Wednesday. Without going into details it can be stated that it was one of the most "upset" and in certain quarters, "negated-practice" sessions of the young season.

Anderson's Birthday

Quite apart from the actual doings on the ice the boys got a bang out of the fact that Doug Anderson, rock-awakened winter last season, was celebrating his 21st birthday. Harvey (The Villain) Young probably hit the nail on the head when he yelled at the peppy crowd, "How does it feel to be a man, Doug?"

Apparently it felt "pretty good" for Anderson had gone in fine style from beginning to end of the game.

ICE CHIPS

Anderson was born in Edmonton. His hockey fortunes certainly have changed for the better in the past 12 months. To state that the season he apparently had failed to catch a place on the Flyers, even went so far as to write Saskatoon in order to look on with the

Korea Army Overcoming Revolution

1,300 Rebels Facing Capture Soon Say Reports

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Korean army units, organized in on insurgents in the southern mountains tonight, and as a high source predicted a quick end to the revolt.

Within 48 hours, the government source predicted, 1,300 rebels in the mountains will be captured. In four days or less, the cities of Yosu, southern springboard of the insurrection, and Suncheon, will be retaken by the government he said.

MARTIAL LAW LIFTED
The cabinet of President Syngman Rhee, in a four-hour session, lifted martial law in all of the republic except northern and southern Cholla provinces.

A United States report of additional material was rejected by the cabinet, the government source said, on the grounds the situation is under control.

Loyal troops sealed off the rebels on the southern end of the peninsula by quick action. Army units moved on the insurgents from four directions and blocked escape by sea from the harbor of Yosu.

PUT TO FLIGHT
Spreading from Yosu yesterday the insurgents swept through Suncheon, 20 miles northward, and moved on Manwon, 30 miles beyond. Between the two points a loyal force intercepted some of the rebels and put them to flight after a fight.

Near Namwon the insurgent force split. Its strength was estimated at 4,000 after the original fighters were joined by freed Communist prisoners and some civilians. Some of the rebels carrying red flags, took to the hills near Namwon and another segment headed toward Kwangju, capital of south Cholla province.

Prime Minister Lee Bum Suk said 400 soldiers and policemen had been killed and that several women were raped by the insurgents.

Earl Dies In U.K.

KNOCKLOFTY, Eire, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Richard Walter John Healy-Hutchinson, 75, uncle of the late Lord of Dunsany, died Tuesday. He served as chairman of committees and deputy speaker of the House of Lords from 1910 to 1931.

"CAN HE GO?" MUST GO, RULES UNFEELING CADI

LONDON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A hobby, attracted by strange noises, peered into Wally Farley's window. Although sober, he saw a horse.

That is why Wally was fined 40 shillings (£8) in court today for keeping a nuisance.

Wally, about 60 and a bachelor, said he was too tired to take his nag to the stable several blocks away and, besides, the horse was good company. The horse is named "Can He Go?"

An unfeeling magistrate ruled that indeed he must go.

Report on DP Camps To Be Issued Friday

WINNIPEG, Oct. 21.—(CP)—A provincial report concerning an investigation into alleged unsatisfactory conditions in Displaced Persons' camps in Manitoba will not be released until Friday, Agriculture Minister D. L. Campbell said today.

Earlier it had been hoped to release the report today, but Mr. Campbell said he had not yet received the findings of health department officials who Tuesday reported on the conditions. The provincial report, on the other hand, is expected to give the camp a clean bill of health, with only a few minor changes suggested.

Airlift To Nfld. Is Discounted

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., Oct. 21.—(CP)—A report that United States military authorities would start an "air lift" to move supplies to American bases in Newfoundland because of the island-wide railway strike was discounted last night by American officials.

The Canadian Press reported Wednesday from St. John's that military authorities were preparing to start such a lift.

It was pointed out that all three U.S. bases in Newfoundland are independent of rail transport because all can be supplied by ship.

Manitoba DP camps was prompted this week by published reports in the Winnipeg Tribune alleging that the DP were living in "squalor, filth and misery."

BACK FROM THE ARCTIC is Hudson's Bay Company ship "Eskimo", shown at Montreal. Just-closed season for "Eskimo" and eight sister ships was busiest on record in remote Arctic waters during which they delivered 5,000 tons of freight and travelled over 60,000 miles. Serviced were company posts, RCMP Arctic detachments and government radio and meteorological stations, as far north as Lancaster Sound.

New Radio-Mail System Sends at Speed of Light

By Paul F. Ellis

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(BUP)—A new system of communication that may open an era of international television and radio mail sent at a rate of a million words a minute was demonstrated for the first time today.

It is a combination of radio, television and photography. It is known as ultrax.

Showing that it has reached the stage where plans for the public can be made, the 104-page novel "Gone With the Wind" was transmitted word for word in its entirety in about two minutes. The distance was about three miles—from a transmitter in a hotel to the library of Congress.

Ultrax is a development of the Radio Corporation of America in cooperation with the Eastman Kodak Company and the National Broadcasting Company. The new system, combining the use of television and radio, transmits with the speed of light—360,000 miles a second.

MANY POSSIBILITIES

Brig-Gen. David Sarnoff, president of RCA, listed numerous possibilities opened up by the new system, including a new radio-mail system with pickup and delivery devices of the post office department.

The system, he pointed out, has the potential of delivering the equivalent of 40 tons of mail coast-to-coast in a single day at "relatively low cost." That would be 12,000,000 letters of one ounce each.

Messages, letters and documents could be beamed through the air, received and reproduced as exact duplicates of the original.

"We would, of course, have to add hands and feet to this winged messenger," Sarnoff said, "in order to provide a pickup and delivery service that corresponds to our present mail system."

RELAY SYSTEM

Ultrax uses the micro-radio relay system in which relay stations are located 30 miles apart. They receive television broadcasts and "bounce" them along to the next station.

Such a system is in operation between New York and Boston, and other networks are being installed. At getting television across the ocean, Sarnoff said that airplanes now flying constantly over the route should carry portable relay stations.

Sarnoff also saw the possibility of ultrax bringing various types of publications into the home; a system of world-wide military communications, arranged to the needs of secrecy; establishment of great newspapers as national institutions by instantaneous transmission and reception of complete editions into every home equipped with a television set; transmission of full-length motion pictures from a single negative in the production studio simultaneously to the screens of thousands of motion picture theatres.

FIRE LADDIES GIVEN MERRY RUN-AROUND

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Somebody stole the second assistant fire chief's brilliant red automobile last night. Just to rub it in he advertised his "position" on the chief's car radio.

Radio men at central fire exchange noon sent out a broadcast: "Calling car 166 (the boss' car). Where are you?"

Answer: "I'm in Lakewood." ... A few minutes later: "No, I'm in Wickliffe (opposite side of town)." ... Later: "I'm going to a fire" ... sound of siren ... (Jubilantly): "I've found the fire chief's car and I'm wearing it."

Still later: "I think I'll leave the car at 9th and prospect."

Police cars, of course, had been whizzing around, their beacons as if in chase of a murderer. But the car wasn't there, either. Later, it was found abandoned on the west side.

Analyze, Plan Play Of Hand in Advance

By William E. McKenney

The play of the hand at contract bridge is the most fascinating and interesting aspect of the game. While it is true that everyone has to have a knowledge of some bidding system, a great many hands are automatic.

Double Pass Pass Pass
Pass Pass Pass Pass
Overcome—W 21

You can never become a good bridge player until you learn to analyze play hands and plan the play in advance. In today's hand, for example, when West becomes declarer at five spades and North opens the king of hearts, many South players would just at the eight-spot, asking partner to continue the heart suit. Then declarer makes his contract, because the losing diamond goes on the fourth trick.

However, if South stops to analyze the hand, he will remember that his partner gave him a free raise of two hearts, and when the opponents bid four spades, North went to five hearts. Therefore, he has a minimum of four hearts. The ace and queen of diamonds, he always has a free diamond finesse and there is no way to defeat the contract.

But there is a possibility that West may not have the ace and queen of diamonds. Therefore, a trick one South should overtake the king of hearts with the ace and hope that West has at least one, as he does in this case.

Then South should lead a diamond, and declarer is helpless. He can go up with the ace, but as soon as he leads a trump, South wins with the ace and cashes a diamond trick. Thus he wins a spade, a heart and a diamond, defeating the contract of five spades doubled one trick.

Regarding the bidding, I think that West made a mistake in going to five spades, even though he was not vulnerable. His partner had given him one free raise in spades, and with the ace of diamonds and ace-queens of clubs, it is not too far fetched for him to expect to take three tricks. That would defeat the five-heart contract, while on the other hand, he has no assurance that his five-spade contract is safe since North and South were doing the bidding and were vulnerable.

For its latitude, North China has unusually severe winters—Peking's average January temperature is 23 degrees.

MOTORISTS' HEAVEN POLICE PROPOSAL

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.—(CP)—Assistant Police director Thomas Leggett has the perfect solution for traffic problems:

"The ideal traffic light system for the majority of motorists is the one with no lights at all."

That's what told Montreal's metropolitan commission in mock bitter comment while the city's traffic situation was under discussion. He was a bit stunned when a commission member asked in all seriousness:

"Have local automobile clubs sought this system?"

East News Director Has Praise For Video

Pioneer in the field of news reporting by television, Phil Curran, Montreal, managing director of British United Press compares the video business with that of gold-mining in the far north.

Here to address the Alberta Region of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, he told The Bulletin: "The video business is like gold-mining. The first million-dollar job to start but its returns are million-dollar, too."

Tuning television for the practical and most effective method of advertising and reporting, he said, he has found the "business is easily and cheaply."

A single piece of equipment used to bring close-ups of sports and lights to the television screen costs $2,000. Other equipment is almost as high priced; competent cameramen for video cost more than $100 a week; and a large personnel is needed in the presentation of television broadcasts.

Mr. Curran was formerly associated with Los Angeles radio stations in presenting BLP news by television.

"I learned the hard way of the headaches in business," he said. "Because of the large staff needed to complete preparation of a television broadcast—cameramen, make-up experts, stage hands and many others—we were obliged to work with 15 different unions before one particular program was televised."

"Television's transmission of color effects makes special make-up requirements," he said. "Women artists, for instance, and in some cases we found that radio listeners who had approved the sound of a commentator's voice, immediately objected to his appearance given by the television screen."

Television of sports events—particularly football—has been a source of satisfaction in Los Angeles, Mr. Curran said. "And sales resulting from television broadcasts are almost complete, almost without the need of a day."

Delegates from districts in the Peace River area will be invited to this meeting.

D. B. MacMillan, minister of public works, told Chamber officials that the government may be unable to commit itself immediately, or in the immediate future, to the construction of a route as desired by the proposed conference.

Charles E. Cassatt was appointed Edmonton Chamber of Commerce's representative on the Council of Social Agencies.

Residents of Elmwood Park Community will have a new ice skating rink this winter.

"Plans are completed and we are now ready to swing into action," Bert Harvey, president of the league, said at a special meeting Wednesday evening.

It would have been impossible to commence the rink, had it not been for the gratifying donations of the lumber yards, retail dress firms and numerous winter clothes which have been held during the past year, the president said.

Virtually all the men in the community are ex-servicemen. Subsequently the Canadian Legion was approached sometime ago, for the procurement of a grant. The legion's answer will be announced on Thursday, Harvey added.

Members will work on the new ice skating rink will commence on the weekend, chairman of the rink committee, Roy Simpson, announced last night.

The rink will be voluntary and therefore any person who is able, is urged to turn out this weekend. The rink is expected to take from three to four weeks for completion, but it will depend mostly on the weather.

He estimated that 300 television receiving sets are now being used in Toronto to pick up video programs from border cities of the United States.

"With the advent of television in the United States, Canada is going to see a demand for television sets, and the same agency," he said.

Representatives of the Alberta region of the association are attending this week-end conference at the Macdonald hotel.

Fear that delayed action would result in American stations being able to usurp the coverage provided by local stations, he said.

Immediate action by Alberta radio stations to obtain some of the 12 allocated Canadian channels was expressed by Mr. Simpson.

Five Canadian stations in eastern areas have already applied to the CBC for television broadcasting licenses, Mr. Simpson said, but no action has been taken by Western Canadian stations.

Underway for a Marconi station in Winnipeg, he added.

3,000 New Houses Proposed for City

Builders Ass'n to Supply Own Utilities if Necessary

Edmonton House Builders' Association plans to erect 3,000 homes in the city during 1949, and is prepared to equip lots with utilities if city officials fail to co-operate in the expansion.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the Edmonton House Builders' Association Wednesday, at which Joseph T. Crowder, managing secretary of the national association, was guest speaker.

Failure of the city to co-operate in the plan will result in the local association sending a delegation to the National House Builders' Association to complete the plan for the program, the biggest planned for any city in Canada.

The action was taken, it was disclosed, following the close of the arrangement, took the initiative last year when the Chicago-sponsored Canadian operated at Waukegan. The arrangement between the local and the Canadian organization had lasted four seasons until the knot was untied in September.

Apparently C.A.C. officials, no longer completely satisfied with the arrangement, took the initiative last year when the Chicago-sponsored Canadian operated at Waukegan. The arrangement between the local and the Canadian organization had lasted four seasons until the knot was untied in September.

Protest made. The fact that "city-ditching equipment is standing idle and used in the action by city officials to oblige laborers and begin installing utilities in vacant areas."

Tearing the "civic block" the biggest stumbling block in the plan for building city homes, the meeting complained that local builders were "very much in the dark" as the 1,500 lots now held by the city.

SHACKS AND TOURISTS
The city is prepared to put up welcome signs for tourists, but on all four sides of the proposed area are rows of shacks," one of the builders attending the meeting said.

A ten per cent down payment on the selling price, and a single mortgage covering the remaining 90 per cent, is being offered by lending institutions and guaranteed by the federal government.

Comments, was suggested in a resolution passed by the meeting.

Puerto Rico was ruled by Spain until 1898 when it was ceded to the United States by the Treaty of Paris.

The 38th Casualty Clearing Station, RCMC (HF) will parade at the Prince of Wales Armoury, Friday at 2:00 hours. Battle dress will be worn.

United Church to Open Memorial Home at Fort

Dedication ceremony by the Edmonton Presbytery of the United Church of Canada will mark the opening of the Agnes Forbes Home at Fort Saskatchewan at 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 31.

The home will accommodate 10 women and is a first of several projects planned by the presbytery to assist senior citizens. Extension of the present building and establishment of other units is planned.

The home is named to honor the late Agnes Forbes Forbes, wife of Mr. Alexander Forbes, who was a pioneer missionary of the United Church of Canada from 1885 to 1905.

During a severe epidemic in the district during the early days Mrs. Forbes, a trained nurse, converted an empty building into a hospital and with the assistance of volunteer helpers, nursed the community's patients so skillfully that only one died occurred.

Following their work at Fort Saskatchewan, Rev. and Mrs. Forbes travelled by bus back to Grande Prairie where they established a church and hospital before Mrs. Forbes' death there in 1917. Dr. Forbes died in retirement in Toronto in 1945.

The home will be under the operation of a board including P. Galloway, Mrs. F. Sherman, Mrs. W. D. Hare, all of Fort Saskatchewan, Mrs. Malcolm McLeod, R. J. Gillis and J. R. Nix, all of Edmonton, and F. M. McCalla, Bremerton, Rev. Angus MacQueen and Rev. T. M. Davy, representing the Edmonton Presbytery and Mrs. T. W. Dyer, Mrs. A. Moore and Mrs. D. McElroy are representatives of the Presbytery Women's Association.

Huzzah! Vegetables
Grace Winter Fare

By Ila Thrifty

Well, there's one thing we won't have to complain about this winter.

We can all stop anarling at Mr. Abbott's cause as we predicted some time ago... we're going to have fresh lettuce, tomatoes, cucumbers, cabbage, celery, spinach and grapes from the good of United States.

This takes a terrific load of worry from the shoulders of housewives who remember how hard it was to provide varied menus for their families last austere winter.

This will be a possibility have a commendable effect on prices of all vegetables... which is nothing to be sneezed at. This Christmas we'll be able to have celery in tomato in all kinds of goodies. Last year we just missed having them for a few days.

I didn't get half a chance to finish telling about all the Chinese vegetables yesterday. I simply must get to the bottom of the exotic and paleontological sauces at this shop.

There is a delectable shrimp sauce selling in a catty-corner bottle for 75c. Another evidently of even more superior flavor sells at $1.35. Another sauce for $2.25 and soy sauce for 45c.

An assortment of oils and cooking flavonoids are to be had at various prices... some high... some low.

Oilies and oodles of dried mushrooms, and all the ingredients for the more novel Chinese delicacies. Fun to shop here.

Beautiful black lacquer vases with weaving, writhing dragons in brilliant colors embossed on their surfaces caught my fancy, especially since they cost but $6 per pair. Slightly larger edition of the pair sold for $7.

Very, very intriguing... was a real find. I'll be sure to bring home a Christmas gift for the house.

But away from all this for a bit and into the comment about prices.

Word with a prominent bank and finance man from the east side of the city for budget-weary citizens.

Instead of a reprieve from the harassing high prices... the worst is yet to come. The worst... land of Goshen... what is this we're having right now?

Right... this very moment (though I know where you can find tinned tomatoes for 20c per tin. This isn't a sale price either. The tins are somewhat smaller than ordinary tinned tomatoes, but they are sufficient for most needs.

Just the right size to put with spaghetti, tomato sauce, or even if you like lots of tomatoes in the soup.

Especially with cooking for two is this a handy thing to know.

Pretty pastel colors... pretty as a rainbow come complete with your packages of shredded coconut, at 20c per package.

You used to have to go through a process of shaking the coconut in a jar with a few drops of coloring... now it's all evenly colored and ready to use.

Wonderful for quick-as-flash party goodies.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Social Customs Change
To Meet Present Needs

Undoubtedly the reason why there is such an increase in divorce and in the number of delinquent children is because we are going through a domestic revolution. The customs of centuries have been scrapped.

Old beliefs have been thrown into the discard. The attitude of parents and children—and husbands and wives—towards each other has been changed and the whole pattern of our lives has been altered.

Although we pride ourselves upon being a forward-looking people, we have not been prophetic enough to foresee this upsetting of all of our old ways, and it has left us confused and bewildered, not knowing how to meet the situation, or how to adjust ourselves to it.

We still are bound to our old ideas and pine for the good old days—days when we lived in big houses where we had plenty of elbow room, instead of being crowded into little flats where we can't move without stepping on somebody's toes, when people married for keeps, children were obedient, home was a place where families forgathered for a pleasant evening together, instead of its being a drearying station to which we hop to change our clothes before starting out for a good time.

ADAPT OURSELVES. But times have changed. If you will look the situation squarely in the face, you will see that the old order, for better or worse as it may turn out, has been swept away as many other civilizations have, and that we will have to adapt ourselves to the new reality.

Take marriage, for instance, on which more than any one thing our happiness or misery depends. We are used to the love-dovey picture of marriage, where the bride finds nothing but the sweetest cottage in pink childhood that ever wore out, and the

WHY GROW OLD
Battle of Tummy Bulge
Never Won By Women

By Josephine Lowman

There is one Battle of the Bulge which has never been won by this woman's army; the battle of the tummy bulge.

A protruding abdomen is the most characteristic herald of the middle-aged spread. Many women who have attractive figures otherwise look years older because of this figure fault.

Where is the fat abdominal wall of yesterday before lax muscles and too many pounds appeared on the abdominal horizon? A flat front is possible at any age if women will pay the price for it with correct weight and abdominal exercises and good diet.

This is such a prevalent feminine figure fault that I repeat this subject quite often. No matter how much I write about it, the mail continues pouring in, asking for help. As I have said many times before, you must remember to add your stomach to the rest of your body.

Must watch the scales and do exercises. Your muscles will become weak without these because in everyday life we use our abdominal muscles in a very mild way.

What is the exercise in a very mild way? Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor a little away from your sides. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Keep the knees bent. Make circles with the knees, complete circles, moving first in one direction and then in the other.

After you have done this exercise for a few weeks do the circling with straight legs, making the circles as large as you can manage. Keep the knees bent. Make circles with the knees, complete circles, moving first in one direction and then in the other.

Remember that regularity is important. Do your exercises EVERY DAY.

If you would like to have my exercises, which will take inches from your abdomen in a few weeks, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2, "Abdominal Exercises," to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mother's Obligation
In Toilet Training

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The bugbore of toilet training aches mothers. They want to do the right thing but they are too eager for immediate success and too discouraged by failure.

At about 15 months it is possible for the child to recognize that he is wet. He shows his recognition by pointing to the wet spot, or putting his hand into it, or wanting to wipe it up. Sometimes, he merely gets a stricken look and holds his wet clothes.

This is a good time to shift from diapers to panties. Not that there will have any magical influence on the child's behavior, but it is indicative of a graduation from infancy. The slow process of training for dryness begins then.

It becomes the mother's task to take him to the toilet at stated intervals (not shorter than one hour). If he wets in-between—and he will, no doubt of it—remind him that he is to wait until Mother takes him to the toilet. Keep using some one word which will become fixed in his mind. To say, "Go to toilet," is a good phrase and eventually those words will be all that is necessary to send him on his way.

Bowel habits are more easily managed as there is a greater tendency to regularity after the first year. Bowels move only once or twice daily at predictable times.

Up to the third year or beyond, accidents may be expected. Until there is a maturity of the genito-urinary tract, control is not possible.

Begin training for bowels at one year, bladder at 15 months and be sure to wash all the lapses with patience. Keeping a child clean is the mother's obligation until there is a personal readiness to assume it.

Our leaflet No. 65, "Toilet Training," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Adventure in North For Miss Oldenburgh

Since 1939 Has Spent Summers
Exploring, Visiting in Arctic

By Frances Geddes

Venturing into unexplored northlands might face some women. But to Margaret Oldenburgh it's exciting but old stuff. Even being lost miles from civilization didn't noticeably affect her venturesome spirit.

In Edmonton now, on her way back to the States, Miss Oldenburgh calls Grand Rapids, Minn. her home town but since 1939 she's been better known in the Arctic. A former librarian at the University of Minnesota, Miss Oldenburgh was lured from her books when she took her first trip to Hudson Bay on the famous Nasau. She's been back to the north every year but one since then.

Each time, she takes back books and hunkies and other articles to trade with the Eskimos. They love books with pictures even when they can't read.

Near tragedy was averted last August when Miss Oldenburgh and her pilot were lost for three days in northern part of District of Keewatin.

Their ways were as maps of oldenburgh cities are out-wrong and they hadn't the slightest idea where they were. Luckily, a pilot found an Eskimo village 15 miles away.

When Miss Oldenburgh was stranded in Alaska with only one dress, one skirt and one sweater, she found a way out of her clothes to women who hadn't seen anything like her wardrobe.

Cooking is always a problem to women in the north where they can't get many items. She has Oldenburgh compiled some recipes suited to the wilderness and gave them to her friends—400 of them. The book is written in conversational style and includes recipes for polar bear and for cooking seals and walrus.

When Miss Oldenburgh was stranded in Alaska with only one dress, one skirt and one sweater, she found a way out of her clothes to women who hadn't seen anything like her wardrobe.

PRINCIPAL speaker at a meeting Sunday of the Edmonton Section of the National Council of Jewish Women will be Mrs. Charles Hymes, of Minneapolis. Educational and service programs of the council will be the subject of her address.

Mrs. Hymes to Address Council of Jewish Women

Mrs. Charles Hymes, of Minneapolis, will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Edmonton Section of the National Council of Jewish Women, to be held in Talmud Torah hall Sunday afternoon.

Plans for the meeting have been announced by Mrs. A. Berov, section president.

Graduate of the University of Minnesota, Mrs. Hymes did post graduate work in speech and speech correction and taught in Indiana and Wisconsin high schools prior to her marriage.

Formerly president of the Minneapolis Section, Mrs. Hymes is now a member of the Section Board of Managers and national committee of the National Council of Jewish Women.

In addition to her council activities, she is president of the Minneapolis Antislavery Council, and vice-president of the Jewish Group Work Association.

She is also a member of the board of directors of the Jewish Federation for Social Services and the Minnesota League for Planned Parenthood.

Mrs. Hymes is active in the League of Women Voters, the College Women's Club, Hadassah, and the Temple Israel Sisterhood.

"Educational and Service Program of the National Council of Jewish Women" has been chosen by Mrs. Hymes as the topic for her address on Sunday.

She will outline recent program developments, including the establishment of homes for unattached Jewish women in Greece and France, and the granting of American and Canadian scholarships to European women who will be trained for rehabilitation work in their own countries.

National Council of Jewish Women is a 54 year old organization, comprising 6,000 members in 300 Junior and Senior sections, in addition to overseas service, the Council sponsors programs of social welfare, contemporary Jewish affairs, social legislation and internal relations and peace.

Mrs. Joyce Greene looked after the guest book and Miss Berenice Stenton displayed the trousseau and gifts.

Mrs. Robb chose a dress of peach crepe, accented by a corsage of sinuoso roses. Mrs. Hale was groomed in black and wore red shoes on tulle. Miss Robb wore a frock of brown and tulle and shoes completed her costume.

Tea table was laid with a cut-work linen cloth. Bouquets of brown and yellow mums, and tall white tapered in silver candelabra completed the table decorations.

During the afternoon, Mrs. F. Hamm and Mrs. Douglas Robb presided at the tea. Mrs. Robb was assisted in serving by Mrs. A. Nikiforuk, Mrs. Audrie Darling and Mrs. Robb.

Wedding gifts and trousseau were displayed by Miss Jane Hunt who will be bridemaid. Mrs. Huel Gilchrist was in charge of the guest book.

Confession Is Said Inspired By Police

LA MALBAIE, Que., Oct. 21.—(CP)—Defence counsel for Lionel Huard, accused of drowning his Yorkshire wife last May 9 in the St. Lawrence river, declared yesterday that a 16-page statement written in jail by Huard was "inspired" by a police officer.

Yesterday — second of Huard's murder trial — the Crown moved to produce three statements allegedly made "freely and voluntarily" by Huard. Mr. Justice Alfred Savard advised the jury to vacate the packed court room as the statements were delivered.

TELLS OF ADVANCES

Before the legal discussion started, Mariette Tremblay, 21, 21-year-old village girl, testified that Huard had made advances to her about two weeks before his wife had been drowned. Huard, claiming the stand in his own defence, admitted having written the statement in jail at Forestville, a St. Lawrence North Shore lumber town but said he had been "boarded" into it by Jean Marc Bouchard, a provincial police officer.

Mid-way during the afternoon sitting Mr. Justice Savard ordered the packed court room evacuated for a 15-minute airing.

TOO MANY GIRLS

At that point the judge said he thought "there are too many little girls here."

Mrs. Tremblay in her appearance on the stand, said that she had not mentioned Huard's alleged advances at the inquest into Mrs. Huard's death because she had been afraid of the defendant.

Legs Severed

CALGARY, Oct. 21.—(CP)—His legs severed above the ankles, Thomas B. Place, 38, of Calgary was found lying on the Canadian Pacific Railway yard tracks last night. Hospital authorities described the man's condition as serious. He was found lying just west of the CPR station by a switching crew after apparently being run over by a train.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, Thursday, Oct. 21, 1948

AMERICANS WARNED FORCES NECESSARY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(CP)—Defense Secretary James Forrestal said last night "a breach of peace anywhere in the world is a threat" to the United States.

This is the "single, simple lesson," he said, taught by the two world wars. In a broadcast marking United Nations Day, Forrestal said:

"The dislocations wrought by war cannot be readjusted by a pious wish or by signatures on a document, no matter how lofty its expressions of amity and goodwill."

"For this reason we must keep a ready crew of our military potential for our own security and to strengthen the United Nations until restoration of political stability is possible through political means."

15 $30,000 Fire Hits Drumheller Block

DRUMHELLER, Alta., Oct. 21.—(CP)—Fire of unknown origin caused damage estimated at more than $30,000 yesterday, gutting a two-story Alberta block.

The building, situated on the avenue west in the heart of the coal city's business district, housed the Red and White grocery store and meat department, suites and storage space in the basement. Dense smoke hampered the firemen.

Dead At 80

LONDON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The death of Sir George Hill, 80, former director of the British Museum, was announced yesterday. Sir George headed the museum from 1903 until he retired in 1936. He is one of the world's leading authorities on coins.

Red Submarine Total Is Estimated at 250

LONDON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Jane's Fighting Ships, authoritative publication of the world's navies, said today Russia has about 250 submarines in service and "fully 100 more" under construction.

"It is evident, therefore, that Russia, like Germany, is inclined to rely chiefly on the submarine as a secret weapon," said the forward to the 50th edition of Jane's, published today.

The publication said the "total strength of this (Soviet) fleet has been substantially increased" but that former German, Japanese and Italian warships figure conspicuously in the additions.

"Some warships which would not seem to have been worth the cost of salvaging have been reconstructed,

Britain Will Sell Japanese Cloth

LONDON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The House of Trade announced last night that Britain will sell Japanese cotton cloth after putting it through lightning processes in this country—to a list of more than 30 countries, including Canada.

Apparently with the idea that nothing would be wasted if it can possibly be utilized," said Jane's.
